About Me

Ever since I can remember, I have been fascinated by technology. I started programming with C, Pascal, and Java. But I was just having fun. After finishing my Business Course in Portugal, I decided to come to England and study Computer Science, which is still compiling. I began the real journey with Python, and so far have taught myself Django, HTML, CSS, JS (also React), and SQL. Now I am looking for an opportunity to apply my knowledge and develop new skills.
